

National Park Service
U.S. Department of the Interior

Knife River Indian Villages
PO Box 9
Stanton, ND 58571

701-745-3300
www.nps.gov/knri

Knife River Indian Villages NHS News Release

Release Date: September 15, 2014

Contact: Dorothy Cook, 701-745-3300, dorothy_cook@nps.gov

Fall Photography Workshop at Knife River Indian Villages

Stanton, ND: Fall is definitely in the air and it is time for the fourth annual Fall Photography Workshop at Knife River Indian Villages National Historic Site. The park will host the workshop on Saturday, September 27 from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Central Time. Participants will meet at the park visitor center, located on County Road 37 a ½ mile north of Stanton, North Dakota. Linda Olson of Minot will be leading the workshop.

Linda currently teaches ceramics at Minot State University. She serves as the Chair of the Division of Humanities at MSU and as the director for the North Dakota Art Gallery Association. Olson is also known for her rock art documentation, and several of her artworks have been included in publications.

People of all ages and experiences are invited to attend the workshop and all camera formats are welcome. Participants do not need to pre-register for the workshop and there is no admission fee. Photographers are encouraged to wear appropriate shoes for hiking and outerwear suitable for fall weather. Participants may bring a sack lunch or purchase lunch locally in Stanton. For more information, please contact the park at 701-745-3300.

www.nps.gov

About the National Park Service. More than 20,000 National Park Service employees care for America's 401 national parks and work with communities across the nation to help preserve local history and create close-to-home recreational opportunities. Learn more at www.nps.gov.